HISTORIC GRIMSBY BEACH COMMERCIAL AND RESIDENTIAL

A summer colony is something which most people know for only about two weeks of each year. To them it is a place to which you rush when vacation time comes and all the time you're there you rush around trying frantically to have a good rest with the inevitable result that you never do get any rest at all. There are a few of us, the residents of Grimsby included, who are fortunate enough to know and live in or near a summer colony all year round and as a result we enjoy its advantages all summer and perhaps a few disadvantages during the winter.

Grimsby Beach is such a summer colony. It has its permanent residents who see the whole holiday season come and go and when it is over turn to face a rather isolated but not altogether unfriendly winter. The major part of the population is, however, of a more transient type. Some have never known the Beach for more than two or three weeks at a stretch, while others turn up every weekend and still others move out from the city for the summer and commute back and forth each night.

The colony itself has had an interesting past. If you want details all you have to do is ask some of the old timers to tell you about the times when the Canada Steamship Lines' boats used to come in at the dock from Toronto; when there were big excursions each weekend; when there was a hay ride every night and the activity was enough to equal even the dazzling Crystal Beach we know today.

But all this began to peter out when the depression came along and soon the boats were not coming any more, the pier fell into disrepair, the holiday air disappeared. The second world war didn't help either. People still used to come over for their holidays but it was different. Gasoline was scarce and hours of work were long. There were too many worries to really go out and have a good vacation. The kids still managed to have themselves a good time though. Very often when school was out some of them headed for the Beach to live for the summer. Work was plentiful on the fruit farms or with the fruit shippers and if the parents weren't at the cottage there was always Uncle Bill who owned three acres of plums down by the '39 or maybe some friend of the family who was glad to get another hand on the place.

But these wartime summers weren't all work for the kids. No siree. Since gasoline restrictions made cars hard to come by the dance halls were pretty well neglected but the old faithful bicycle could always get you to Grimsby to the show or down to Taylor's Auto which was open every night then. There were house parties, too. Just about every weekend somebody had a party but it was usually not an invited affair everybody just came. And if it was an invited affair everybody just came anyway.

Well, as they say in the magazines, the war didn't last forever, and peace came at last. At first there wasn't much difference around the Beach. Or maybe cottages were a little scarce in the summer and after a while as Junior got older the bicycle got short (Continued on Page 3)

WANTED—A PAIR OF CRUTCHES, SIZE 53"

Miss Secord of the Victorian Order of Nurses called us to ask if we would attempt to locate some kind soul who might have a pair of 53" crutches tucked away in the basement or attic. Miss Secord has an elderly patient, whom she is trying to teach to walk, and the crutches would be of great assistance. If any of our readers have a pair of crutches, size 53, a call to Millyard's Pharmacy would bring Miss Secord running for the crutches.

UNIQUE TOADSTOOL MIDST CUCUMBERS

Mrs. A. C. Farewell, of 16 Robinson St. N., has discovered a rather unique toadstool in her garden. When picking cucumbers the other day, Mrs. Farewell came upon a pure white growth which was of the fungus variety. It was not, however, in the usual shape of a toadstool but the umbrella was drawn down around the stem much like a sleeve.

The growth was eventually identified as a toadstool which is a fairly common fungus but the unique shape remains quite unexplained.

DRUNKEN EPILEPTIC REALLY A PROBLEM

Transients continue to cause the local police trouble in the form of over enthusiastic tipping and other rare forms of disturbance. The latest trouble comes from Albert Shafer, 56, no fixed abode, who had been drinking and was picked up by Constable Davies.

When taken into the police office to be questioned he staged an epileptic fit near the bottom of the stairs and several more in the confinement cell. Dr. J. V. Christie was called and on his advice the man was removed to the St. Catharines General Hospital for treatment. A card in the man's pocket indicated that he was subject to such fits.

GARBAGE FIRE STARTS POSTS ABLAZE

Both trucks answered an alarm in North Grimsby Township on Monday afternoon, to the James Ruggi property, bordering the Queen Elizabeth Way and Oldfield Road, where a brisk north-east wind fanned flames through a pile of cedar grape posts, and threatened to spread over a dry field. Firemen soon had the blaze under control.

May Ruggi told The Independent that she was burning garbage, when the dry grass caught fire, and soon caught so rapidly that she called for assistance. She estimated that well over five hundred posts were destroyed before firemen could quell the blaze.

PRUDHOMME'S ERECT SERVICE STATION-RESTAURANT ON Q E W

The Department of Highways have granted a permit to Prudhomme Brothers of Beamsville, to erect a service station on the Queen Elizabeth Way, just a few hundred feet west of Jordan Harbour. Already preliminary grading has started, and the building, which will be primarily of stone construction will likely be started this month, or early in September.

Besides the restaurant will be built, adjoining the station, John Prudhomme told The Independent, that this natural location might possibly become a scenic spot, if the Department grants a permit to the Prudhomme concern to landscape and beautify some six acres of land surrounding the station and restaurant. It is their intention if such permission is granted to plant practically every known shrub, evergreen, perennial and plant, and label them so that visitors to the spot would not only be able to admire the beauty of the scenic park, but also to identify the many species of ornamentals planted therein.

Elaborate plans for this park have been drawn up by Mr. Adams, landscape director of the C. H. Prudhomme Nurseries, and there is little doubt but what the spot would become a mecca for the traveling public.

The Department have been extremely cautious about granting permits for such types of buildings along the Queen Elizabeth, and when one is granted, the builder must conform with a great many specifications. Pertaining to the service station for instance, it must be of a type to remain open twenty-four hours a day, and be complete with service truck, and all facilities necessary to assist the motorist.

The location of the Prudhomme enterprise is part of the old Wismer farm, which was purchased some years ago by Prudhomme's, and has been used for the raising of nursery stock.

The application to erect the station has been pending for three years.

TWO INJURED AS CYCLE AND AUTO COLLIDE

Two people were injured last Friday night when a motorcycle was in collision with a car on Main St. West, just in front of Slade's Garage. The car, driven by John Odzywolski, was proceeding westward when it turned across the road to enter a gas station. The motorcycle which was going in the opposite direction crashed into the left front side of the auto and was propelled by the force of the crash off at an angle coming to rest near the front of a parked truck after narrowly missing a hydro pole.

The cycle was driven by John McMahon, 18, of Hamilton, who received severe lacerations to the left leg, a fractured thigh and lacerations to the hands and feet. His passenger, Carl Kohler, 19, also of Hamilton received a fractured lower leg and lacerations to the scalp. Neither the driver of the car, Mr. Odzywolski, or his passenger, Mr. Onifery, was injured.

The cycle had a badly bent handle bar, a bent leg guard and other damage. The car was badly smashed across the front with one headlight gone, the other twisted, the front of the radiator broken and the motor smashed from its mount. Estimated damage to the car was $250.

Dr. A. F. McIntyre attended the injured and Constable Davies of the Grimsby Town Police investigated the accident.

PEACH BROWN ROT REMAINS BIG PROBLEM

John J. Bregger, of Clemons, South Carolina, recently contributed an article to the New York Packer on "The Brown Rot Menace" which is of interest to all peach growers. In the first place, Mr. Bregger's article emphasizes that brown rot is prevalent in most peach producing districts and that the real answer to the problem has not been found.

He says: "About six years ago when a delegation of Tennessee peach growers made a 'pilgrimage' to visit our South Carolina peach districts, the question was asked over and over again 'Why do we see so little brown rot?' Whether or not we had the answer for it then, it is very certain that the same question would not be asked today. In fact it begins to look as though brown rot was the worse offender in the production of unsalable fruit."

"Other humid parts of the United States have for years fought the scourge of brown rot. At times it has become bad enough to ruin entire crops, either at the point of origin or at the consumer end of the merchandising cycle. And as though that weren't bad enough, it has influenced growers to pick peaches unduly green in order to get it 'off to market' before the rot developed."

"It is well known that brown rot develops faster under conditions of high temperature and humidity, frequent rainfall and cloudy weather. This is, however, only one phase of the problem. With thick, over-nitrated trees, the rot spreads even faster."

Control Difficult
And control measures are also more difficult to carry out under such conditions. Open, not too vigorous trees are easier to dust and spray, besides allowing more rapid drying following rains and heavy dews.

"Brown rot, while being known to the average layman as a fruit rot only, has several other forms of manifestation. In reality it may do more sweeping damage at another period than that of harvest time."

"To be more specific, the so-called blossom blight of peaches may completely wipe out a crop of the most susceptible peach varieties. And this has actually occurred where no bloom sprays have been applied."

"Then there is a third type of brown rot which is becoming more prevalent in recent years. It is the brown rot twig canker—a progressive type of injury that may eventually involve a small sized limb with all the foliage and fruit that it carries. When such a condition becomes actually noticeable in an

A WELL KNOWN "MAIN STREETER"

James W. Baker was born in Aultsville, Ont., which is down in the eastern end of the province. In 1906 when Jimmy was still a wee tot, his family moved to Smithville and from there to St. Catharines for a year and thence to Grimsby, where they lived in the old Coulson house on Maple Avenue. Jimmy was educated in Smithville and Grimsby and when he left school he went on the railroad as a telegrapher. He spent a year at this in the United States and then in 1926 he became manager of a gravel and mixed concrete yard in Pontiac, Michigan. In 1929 when the depression came along, Mr. Baker came back to Grimsby and went on the road selling stationery for the R. J. Lovell Co. He remained with them for eight years before he bought Henry Hillier's stationery store which was then located in the block where Bert Constable now has his Lincoln Electric shop. In 1942 Mr. Baker moved to his present location on the corner of Depot and Main Sts.—Photo by Robert Aldrick.

NIAGARA-ON-THE-LAKE WILL HAVE LARGE MODERN HOSPITAL

Announcement was made this week that plans for the proposed new Niagara hospital have received government approval and work on the structure is scheduled to commence this fall.

The new hospital will replace the present Niagara Cottage Hospital, which is inadequate to serve the town and township. Of modernized Georgian architecture, the proposed 26-bed hospital will be of concrete block with brick facing.

Land has been purchased at the end of the town's main street, near the famed Fort George and Navy Hall, restored historic attractions of the area. Turning of the sod ceremony to mark commencement of building operations is set for September.

Accommodation will include six private beds, two semi-private and one two-bed ward for medical patients; two private and four semi-private beds for obstetrical patients; one private and one semi-private room for surgical. Other bed space will include two for pediatrics and one suspect room. The nursery will contain seven bassinets.

On the main floor of the hospital will be located the major operating room, an emergency operating room, the delivery room, X-ray room and offices.

A call for tenders will be issued shortly. Chester C. Wood, architect has announced the Niagara hospital will encompass the modern equipment and facilities of the newest large hospitals, but on a scale suitable to the needs of the community. Contributions to the building fund, which was launched last October with a three-day canvass of the town and township, are still being received. Interest has been wide-spread and donations have been received from all parts of the United States and Canada, an indication of the interest in the town whose attractions stem not only from historic lore but from past military affiliations.

TRANSIENT SEASON NOW AT ITS PEAK

Local police picked up two more transients over the weekend, one for being drunk in a public place and the other for vagrancy and begging. Cuthbert Lindsay, 59, no fixed address, was sentenced by Magistrate H. D. Hallett in St. Catharines on Monday to $16 or 21 days for vagrancy. Daniel MacDonald, 46 years of age, was sentenced on Monday to $11 or 7 days in jail on a charge of being drunk in a public place.

COW COMES OUT TOPS AS THREE CARS CRASH

Three cars and a cow got all mixed up late Friday afternoon, with total damage estimated at around $1500.00. Bossy remained unscathed, and wandered off peacefully chewing her cud.

The cow, owned by Fred Kozlo, Murray Street, Grimsby, went for a stroll, and piked the west bound lane of the buy Queen Elizabeth Highway for her jaunt. That was the scene the confronted John Baker, Pennsylvania motorist, who immediately slammed on his brakes, and this caused Joseph Michell, of Toronto, who was following the Baker auto to ash into the Baker vehicle. Just to add to the confusion, Frank Davis of Kenmore, N.Y., failed to stop in time, and crashed with considerable impact into the rear of the Michell vehicle. S. A. Reichert, passenger in the Davis car was the only person injured to a extent, his injuries sustained he went through the windshield he sandwiched Michell auto on top third beat, it being damaged extensively, and Constable Doug Bie estimated the damage at approximately $1000.00, with damage the Davis car was only slightly damaged. As we mentioned before, Bossy was unhurt, and arid home in time for milking.

POLICE COMMITTEE MEETING DISCUSSES MOVING OF PROV. POLICE

Ed. Note—Tuesday evening, a meeting was called by Police Commissioner Douglas Scott, at which all but two members of the Town Council attended. It is customary to exclude the press from a meeting of this nature, however, in view of the fact that the purpose of the session was to discuss the sudden turn in events with regard to the Provincial Police leaving Grimsby, Police Commissioner has released The Independent, a brief report of the opinions expressed and the general feelings of Council regarding this Provincial change. A more detailed report will naturally be forthcoming following the next regular session of Council.

There seem to be a possibility that one of two things may take place, following the announcement that the Provincial Police would no longer be located in Grimsby. Expressions by members of Council at a special meeting of the Police Committee, indicate that it may be necessary to put a fourth constable (Continued on Page 10)

NEW ADDITION TO RADIAL DINER

One of the district's most popular spots for the noble practice of satisfying one's appetite, the Radial Diner, is undergoing some radical changes at present, and when completed early in September, will be considerably more attractive, and much more spacious.

Lumley Construction are working on a new 18' by 28' addition which has been added to the original diner, which is one of the famous Ward & Dixon type diners, prevalent around the country some twenty years ago.

The Ward and Dixon Diner was opened by Robert Crawford about eighteen years ago, down on No. 8 highway, south of the brickyard, and was operated by Roy Cornwall and his wife for a number of years. In 1946 the Diner and adjoining service station was taken over by Bent and Arnot, who opened up the Diner which had been closed during the war years. In (Continued on Page 5)

BEAMSVILLE CO-OP SHIPPING FRUIT BY AIR COMMERCIALLY

At 10 a.m. on Friday (tomorrow) morning fruit will begin to flow in commercial lots from this area to Bermuda by air transport. The Beamsville Grower's Co-operative will dispatch 1500 lbs. of grapes and peaches to Malton Airport where they should arrive by noon. At exactly 2:55 p.m. they will be on their way to Bermuda by air and should arrive at their destination by 10:05 Friday evening our time.

COMPARISON OF PRICES SHOWS GROWERS HERE AHEAD OF U.S.A

With our own fruit growers busily engaged in harvesting a fruit crop that has been termed "bumper" by many, with others being a little more conservative and saying only that the crop is bountiful, but with weather conditions hardly conducive to good grades, it is interesting to note excerpts from "The Packer," an American trade journal devoted to the growers, packers and shippers of fruits and vegetables.

Date lined Sacramento, California, August 19, this item appears under the head "Near Collapse of Markets Hits Californians."

"Growers here have experienced their worst selling year since the 30's. It seemed clear this week that the almost total collapse of the deciduous tree fruit market in California this year has been due mainly to the harvest of bumper crops, virtual loss of foreign markets, and over-packing last year by enthusiastic canners. High transportation costs haven't helped either. Prices on practically all deciduous fruits have been extremely low in all markets, and growers,

After the 15th of September residents of Lincoln County, including Grimsby, will call Niagara Falls 99 when the assistance of Provincial Police is required. This turn of events comes as a result of the vast amount of work that has been done in the setting up of a highly successful radio network, with which Ontario Provincial Police now operate with precision and great efficiency.

The Grimsby office of the Provincial Police is but one of the many that will close, with the entire detachment of men that have worked from this point moving to central headquarters in St. Catharines, the hub for the County of Lincoln.

In telephone conversation with Inspector Chris Airey, Niagara Falls District headquarters, The Independent learned that this "centralization of personnel" is a direct result of the introduction of radio, which was started some two years ago. Only recently has the complete web been completed, so that throughout the entire province the Provincial Police can quickly be routed to the scene of trouble.

Although it will seem strange not to have a Provincial Office here, there is little doubt but that the County will benefit by the change. It is not always an easy task to locate a Provincial officer when his services are required under the present system, but when the change is made, a call to Niagara Falls will bring an officer to the scene within minutes.

The same will apply to surrounding Counties, Cayuga will be centralized for the County of Halimand, and Welland for the County of Welland.

First Officer
It was in 1922 that Grimsby first became acquainted with the Provincial Police, with George McKay the first officer to be stationed here. When one considers that McKay policed Grimsby, Smithville, Beamsville, Vineland, and those incidental miles in between, and all without benefit of an auto or motorcycle, then we get some idea of how the Provincial Police system has advanced with the times, until it now stands as a force comparable with any in the world.

There, too, was the era of the "speed cop," those dashing fellows who often were daredevils of the old school, as they maneuvered their cycles through the "bumper to bumper" traffic that existed on No. 8 highway before the advent of the Queen Elizabeth Way.

WINNERS OF LOCAL RADIO DRAW

Two local people have won free cleaning from Star Cleaners, whose daily radio show over CKOC is drawing attention from many Grimsby and district residents. Mrs. R. MacFarlane, 13 Fairview won $5.00 worth of cleaning two weeks ago, and last Saturday, a fellow by the name of Tapajna of R.R. 1, Grimsby, won himself some free cleaning. Pauline Shivers and Mr. Andrew Smith drew the winners names. John Cimba, bustling proprietor of Star Cleaners, tells us that his radio show is heard daily at 2:55.

according to experts, have experienced their worst year since the early 30's."

The article also tells of the vast difference in the price of Bartlett pears and Elberta peaches in 1949 as compared to 1948.

"Bartlett pear growers expect a crop of 289,000 tons this year, compared to only 226,000 in 1948. Peach growers are having an estimated harvest of 865,000 tons this year, where they had only 723,000 in 1948. With few exceptions the same situation exists in other fruits. Both Bartletts and Elbertas were bringing around $40.00 a ton last week, compared with a high of $124.00 for Bartletts, and $65.00 for clings a year ago.

Canners bought heavily and paid high prices last year, because the spring drought threatened the crops. As the crops were near normal, the results were large canned surpluses which would have to be sold before this year's crops could be packed to any great extent."

From Wenatchee, Washington, comes this item:

MISS CANADA PICKED

S. Radcliff Weaver and his Canada Beauty Pageant has taken a big kick in the pants from the daily press, who for some reason seem to enjoy kicking a guy when he has a flop on his hands. The only person who remains happy as far as we can ascertain is Margaret Munn, the winner by a knockout, and the gal who will now be known as Miss Canada for 1949. She replaces Miss Betty Jean Ferguson of Halifax, who was getting just a trifle tired of smiling pretty for the cameras everywhere she turned.

Miss Munn is undoubtedly a very delectable young lady, and can hold her own as far as looks is concerned anywhere, however, she was given the decision mostly for her talents, which include a very charming voice, and a passable manipulation of the ivories.

On this talent angle seems to hinge the big argument about beauty contests. The old time beauty contest has gone into the ash can, for now instead of just having the prettiest gals in a bathing suit, plus other natural and eye-appealing features, a gal must have plenty on the ball to catch the judges' eye. She is judged for her personality, talents, poise and a host of other ingredients, that should be sufficient to entitle her to the handle of Miss Canada.

Actually we give credit to Mr. Weaver for as he has stated the whole scheme is a none-profit deal, with the girls entering in line for many worthwhile scholarships, and a host of opportunities opened to them for their future. It was unfortunate that Mr. Weaver took his show to Toronto the Cold, when Hamilton supported the previous pageant so well. The adverse publicity given the entire proceedings will surely dampen next year's contest, and Mr. Weaver will certainly have to be very cautious as to the proper place to parade what we suppose are Canada's most beautiful women.

At least those beautiful women who care to enter into such contests. Should Miss Munn make a good showing in Atlantic City where Miss America will be chosen shortly, then perhaps the event will perk up, and might even replace Olsen and Johnson at the Exhibition in a few years—but then we must have American talent says Mr. Hughes.

ELSIE'S C.N.E. VISIT TO AID CHILDREN

Elsie, the world's most famous cow, shown here with her attendants and baby boy Beauregard, will visit the Canadian National Exhibition from August 26 to September 10, inclusive. All voluntary contributions received at Elsie's Boudoir will be divided equally among the Toronto Council of Kiwanis Clubs visit to Canada was in 1941 at the C.N.E. in aid of the British War Victims' Fund. More than 275,000 visitors saw her then and dropped $20,000 into her collection boxes. Two years later she returned and toured Toronto, Montreal and Ottawa to help the Kinsmen's Club Milk Fund for Britain. More than 200,000 people saw her during that three-week trip. At her last C.N.E. appearance in 1947, Elsie was one of the biggest attractions. Her 433,284 visitors contributed over $19,000, all of which went to the Hospital for Sick Children and the Christmas Cheer Fund for British Children.

ditches and holding dams and basins will give us security against drought and make certain that some districts at least will have the insurance they need so badly.

This is just one aspect of the conservation programs which are brought to our attention day after day at the present time. We are just learning the value of water and of moisture, those two things which we had known in such abundance that we scarcely gave them a thought. Water, that seemingly cheap and ordinary commodity has become priceless above the gold and silver and jewels which man has treasured for generations. It is high time that we made plans to keep that supply which we have intact and pure and to see to it that provision is made for the far greater needs which we must face in the prosperous future which we hope will be the lot of Canada.

THE EARLY ROBIN

(From the Christian Science Monitor)

Oh-oh! NOW they tell us!—We've known about Santa for ever so long but it comes just as hard to learn that there's no "first robin." What did the American people ever do to the Smithsonian Institution in Washington to deserve the blow now dealt by its report on American thrushes?

Next thing we know Smithsonian will be uprooting the flowers that bloom in the spring. But what have they to do with the case of the robin that stays all winter and is just a weary watcher like the rest of us for the gentle season? Only this—we welcome them both at just about the same time.

To be sure, Smithsonian gives us permission to speak of the first robin seen in the spring. How generous. But the point is whether we are to have mere accuracy forced upon us where accuracy is worse than useless, or whether we are going to stand up and be counted among the brave first robins who will appear next spring despite edicts from no matter how near the national center of gravity—and too much of same.

INTIMATE JOURNALISM

Every newspaper has its own rules and establishes its own tone. As a general thing the rules are the result of widespread newspaper experience, and in Canada the tone tends to be an impersonal, somewhat formal one. But we are always delighted when we hear of a dissenter, and it is a long time since we discovered anything comparable to this notice from a weekly paper in Kansas:

"Ten cents straight a line will be charged for all obituary notices to all business men who do not advertise while living. Delinquent subscribers will be charged 15 cents per line for an obituary notice. Advertisers and cash subscribers will receive as good a send-off as we are capable of writing, without any charge whatever. Better send in your subscription, as the hog cholera is abroad in the land."

As a means of making friends and influencing people this may leave something to be desired but for verve and tang it will not be easily surpassed.

INCREDIBLE

Canada has a mounting birth rate and a corresponding lowering in infant mortality. But there is another condition which requires looking into. So declares R. M. Harrison in The Windsor Star, and the writer comes along with something which is just about incredible. He comments:

For instance, a New York dispatch describes the black market operations of organized rings seeking to capitalize on a nationwide shortage of children for adoption in the United States. Young American mothers are selling their newborn infants for $3,000 apiece. And it's not only America's problem. The New York story concludes: "The demand for children in this country (the U.S.) has been so great, the supply so short, that hundreds of Canadian children have been dumped on the American market, bringing prices ranging up to $1,500." Thus Canada seems to be losing population at both ends—skilled professional people at the top, unwanted babes at the bottom."

There is a condition which does lend some credence to the story about American mothers selling their offspring for adoption. It is the housing condition, and on top of that, a recent survey showed that a large percentage of apartment and house owners refused to give rentals to couples with children or dogs.

There is a brutal phrase in that New York dispatch which is shocking: "Canadian children have been dumped on the American market." If that is true and within present man-made laws, it is nevertheless a sacrilege and complete obliquity of moral law.

MAN'S FATHFUL FRIEND

I've never known a dog to wag His tail in glee he did not feel, Nor quit his old-time friend to tag At some more influential heel. The yellowest cur I ever knew, Was to the boy who loved him, true.

I've never known a dog to show Halfway devotion to his friend, To seek a kinder man to know, Or richer, but unto the end The humblest dog I ever knew Was to the man who loved him, true.

I've never known a dog to fake Affection for a present gain, A false display of love to make Some little favor to attain. I've never known a Duke or Spot That seemed to be what he was not. No dog, however, mean or rude, Is guilty of ingratitude.

liquor in his stomach has no place behind the steering wheel. They have not yet realized that no man has any business driving a car unless he keeps his mind on his job every second, abstains from too great speeds, observes the rules of the road scrupulously, and keeps always in the back of his mind the consciousness that the slightest lapse on his part may cause tragedy.

There is no excuse for carelessness on the part of any person at the wheel of an automobile. The highways are no place for the driver who has not a full realization of his responsibilities and who is not prepared to exercise due precaution while on the road to assure his own safety, that of those who may be with him, and of his fellow motorists.

tween $1,000 and $2,000. The real value was $11,000.

This is a simple, sensible and effective way of helping employees to understand the operation of which they form a part. It is a way of helping them to take an intelligent interest in the company's problems. It will pay off in the short run by making employees more careful of the materials they handle and reducing wastage. It will pay off in the long run by helping to increase the workers' feeling that they are engaged in a joint enterprise with management, a partnership in which both gain or both suffer.

This particular method may not be suitable for most businesses. The method does not matter. What does matter always and everywhere is that management should be imaginative and ingenious in discovering the best ways of interesting workers in the operations of the company.

municipal and provincial boundary is court- ing stagnation and disaster. Yet we are heading straight in that direction when any municipality attempts to bar the taxis, plumbers, lawyers and goods of another.

If the truth were known there is little public support for this sort of internal restriction. The whole thing stems from fear of wholesome competition. It is an attempt to protect local inefficiency.

Provided we set up uniform and reasonably high standards of training everywhere in Canada, and that shouldn't be too difficult, there is no reason why a Newfoundlander shouldn't have the same opportunities and privileges in British Columbia as a native born, and vice versa.

Even from the standpoint of dollars and cents this attempt to penalize the outsider just doesn't make sense. As a matter of fact we would be better off if we offered him special advantages because the local population has been spared the direct cost of his training. This is a point which the big cities especially are inclined to forget.

And picnicking just below the Shand Dam we thought even more deeply as we watched the water flow through in a seemingly small volume as it was released to keep the flow of the river even through this time of dry weather and little rain. It is a priceless thing, this rainfall which we may manage to keep safe against the day when it is needed. We are far from solving this problem but the day will come when irrigation

CARELESSNESS HEADS THE LIST

(Editorial from Guelph Daily Mercury July 30th, 1949)

One of the interesting bits of information of the month comes from the American National Safety Council, which reports that contrary to popular belief, it is not the drunken driver, who is the greatest menace on the highway, but the plain, ordinary careless driver.

Of the many thousands of automobile traffic fatalities in the United States, less than two per cent were caused by drunken drivers, the Safety Council reports. The completely sober driver who failed to exercise proper care was by far more dangerous.

People have been pretty well educated to the fact that a man with a quantity of

GUESSING CAN BE CONSTRUCTIVE

(From the Financial Post)

Here is a challenge to executives in any manufacturing or processing business. If you were shown a pile of the materials used by your firm, could you tell how much they cost?

One big Canadian firm has been doing just that, and the chance to guess is open not only to executives but to all employees in the plant.

Piles of different materials have been put on show with display cards inviting the worker to guess how much they cost. By lifting a flap on the card the guesser can see the right answer.

The cards have been used a great deal, and the guesses have been pretty wild. Two executives looked at a pile of sheet steel weighing 26 tons and guessed that it was worth in one case $800, in other $1,600. The real cost was $7,500. A pile of pressboards produced guesses from employees varying be-

TOO MANY FENCES

(From the Financial Post)

A taxi with a county license only, rushing an expectant mother to the hospital, was stopped at the Toronto boundary recently. Later the driver was haled into court and fined. One might expect this sort of absurdity in crossing the iron curtain but hardly in a democratic country like ours. The delay might easily have cost two lives.

During the same week Toronto and township authorities trying to combat a regular epidemic of murders were gravely handicapped by the fact that there was no metropolitan police force to operate regardless of municipal boundaries.

Perhaps these two glaring examples will bring to their senses those small-minded Canadians who cling to the belief that this country can be turned into a series of air-tight communities. This world is suffering tremendous loss today as a result of an excess of national toll gates which restrict and in some cases prohibit the free movement of peoples and goods.

To duplicate that vicious system at each

PRICELESS ABOVE RUBIES

(From The Elora Express)

The things of greatest value we take for granted. For instance, there is water. Who ever thinks of water in terms of gold and silver? Until they reach a place where there is none to be had and they realize that the great thirst and the great drought alike have only one solution—cool clear water.

We have had occasion to ponder on this matter this spring when day after day went by without rain and the grass and crops shivelled and turned brown before our eyes. And we have all had occasion to wish for an old

SUNBONNET RUFFLES

By PRUNELLA WOOD

This is the sort of country dress which makes a Saturday night square dance good to watch, the garb for today's covered wagon . . . a swank convertible roadster. The fabric is sheer gingham in violet and amethyst tones, halter top, triangular shawl and full skirt, the model. It is a junior dress designed in St. Louis, and mighty pert and purty with its sunbonnet ruffles.

last week with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Graham, John St.

Douglas Morris who has been visiting his cousin, Clayton Robins, of John St., for the past month, has returned to his home in Windsor.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Graham and son Bill, of Toronto, and also their son Grant and his wife of Los Angeles, Cal., spent last Thursday afternoon with the former's brother, J. J. Graham and Mrs. Graham, John St.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller Peart of Montreal, are visiting their parents Mr. and Mrs. V. W. Jackson, Main West, and Mr. and Mrs. Morley Peart, Burlington, after an extended honeymoon through the Eastern States.

Little Davena Woods of Hamilton, returned to her home on Monday, after spending the past two weeks with her grandmother, Mrs. Thos. Stephen, Elizabeth St., while her parents, Charles and Mrs. Woods with Mr. David Aiken and Master David Gibson, all of Hamilton, were holidaying in the Algonquin Park district on Papineau Lake.

MISS PEGGY O'NEIL SPONSORS MISS CANADA

There are two very happy people in Grimsby this week. They are Miss Margaret Lynn Munn, and Miss Peggy O'Neil. Miss Munn topped the show at Toronto last week, and was the unanimous choice of the judges to wear Miss Canada's crown. The many awards which include scholarships have made this charming 24 year old Vancouver girl a very happy person indeed, although she could hardly be more thrilled than was her sponsor and adviser, the Village Inn's own Peggy O'Neil.

Margaret Munn and Peggy O'Neil first became acquainted two years ago, when Miss Munn thrilled Oak Room patrons at the Super Club. Since then she has appeared frequently in the Oak Room her fine lyric coloratura soprano voice never failing to bring encore after encore. The judges in the Miss Canada Pageant also decided that this charming young girl richly deserved the title bestowed upon her, as she sang La Traviata from the opera of the same name, and then sat down at the grand piano to render with great artistry Chopin's brisk Minute Waltz.

Miss Munn has one very definite ambition and that is to become associated with the Metropolitan Opera in New York City, certainly no small goal, but one she has dedicated her future to, and most assuredly should realize if the critics who have heard her are correct.

The competition was plenty stiff at Maple Leaf Gardens, but Miss Munn not only walked off with a high rating in the talent department, for which she chose a white nylon net with leaf pattern, but also when it came down to the judging of figures in bathing suits, Miss Munn walked off with top honors.

She stands a wonderful chance of taking the Miss America title at Atlantic City next month, for if ever the title is to leave the United States, Miss Munn should be the girl who can do it. Meanwhile she is resting at the Village Inn, before she and Miss O'Neil leave for Atlantic City and the American contest. Following this the two have accepted an invitation to visit Peru as guests of the Peruvian government.

Then it will be plenty of hard work for Miss Canada, as she strives to attain her ambition to stand on the broad stage of the Metropolitan. Canadians will wish for her the fullest degree of success in reaching the top in this difficult profession.

DUFFIELD-HAYNES

A very pretty wedding took place on Saturday afternoon, August 20, at Trinity United Church when Roberta Elizabeth, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Haynes, Vineland, became the bride of Howard Reginald Duffield, of Grimsby. Rev. A. L. Griffith officiated at the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was gowned in white organza with shoulder length veil and carried red carnations and roses. She also wore the groom's gift, a strand of pearls.

The best man was Guy Winters, and the bridesmaid, wearing a pretty blue taffeta frock, was the bride's sister, Miss Joan Haynes. The flower girl, Heather Winters, wore a long pink taffeta gown with bonnet to match and carried a nosegay of mixed flowers.

Following the ceremony the bride and groom were met at the church by a detachment of Peach Kings, escorted to a float decorated with Peach Kings colours, and paraded through the town, before proceeding to the home of the bride's parents at Vineland for the reception.

The bride's mother wore light blue crepe with matching hat, and rose corsage. She was assisted in receiving by the groom's sister, Mrs. Lyle Lucey, wearing a grey ensemble with yellow rose corsage.

On their return from a wedding trip to Kirkland Lake and other Northern Ontario points, Mr. and Mrs. Duffield will reside in Grimsby.

HOMEMAKER'S CORNER
by Evelyn Budge

A teacher asked one of her pupils to name 2 deserts in a certain country. The boy's answer was "Peaches and Cream." Our appetites turn to peaches and cream
now, too, so here are a few Peach recipes.

Peach Nests
1 pkg. Lime jello, 1 pt. boiling water, 3 fresh peaches. Dissolve jello in boiling water. Cool slightly.
Pour part of jello mixture into 6
sherbet glasses filling each 1/4 full.
Chill until firm. Pour remaining jello into shallow pan and chill till firm. Slice peaches on to firm jello in sherbet glasses. Cover with remaining jello cut in cubes. Serves 6.

Peach Salad
Remove skin from firm ripe peaches.
Cut in halves and remove stones. Turn hollow side up in head lettuce. Fill cavities with mayonnaise or custard sauce, and stick 3 or 4 salted almonds in each.

Peach Sponge
1/2 oz. gelatine, 1/4 cup cold water,
1 cup sweetened peaches crushed,
1 tsp. lemon juice, 1 tsp. grated lemon rind, 2 egg whites. Soak gelatine in water. Place fruit pulp, lemon juice and rind into saucepan and heat gently till boiling. Add softened gelatine and stir till dissolved. Allow to cool and when starting to thicken fold into mixture the stiffly beaten egg whites.
Turn into wet mould and allow to set. Unmould on to a serving plate.
Garnish with pieces of peaches and serve with custard sauce made with the egg yolks.

Peach Marmalade
1 small bottle maraschino cherries, 2 oranges, 2 lemons, grated rind and juice. Add sufficiently chopped peaches to make up 4 cups fruit, 7 cups sugar, 1/2 bottle certo. Combine fruit and sugar and stir till boiled hard one minute. Add certo.
Stir and skim for ten minutes
making sure fruit is equally distributed. Pour into glasses and cover with paraffin.

Peach Conserve
24 large peaches, 2 oranges juice and grated rind, 2 lemons, juice and grated rind, 3 1/2 lbs. sugar, 1 cup blanched almonds. Peel and slice peaches. Add sugar, orange, and lemon and let stand over night.
Then cook slowly till thick adding almonds. Pour mixture has cooked 20 minutes, pour into hot sterilized jars or glasses and seal at once.

Sweet Pickled Peaches or Pears
4 quarts peaches or pears, 2 cups vinegar, 1 cup water, 4 cups sugar, 1 stick cinnamon, 2 tsp. whole cloves. Boil vinegar, water, sugar and spices 20 minutes. Choose small perfect fruit. Put a small quantity of fruit in syrup at one time and cook till tender. Pack in hot sterilized jars. Fill with boiling syrup and seal. No doubt you all make Peach Pie, and for a change instead of making a two crust pie, you can put sliced sweetened peaches in bottom of pastry lined pie plate, and make an ordinary custard. Pour over and bake.

I wonder if you have canned your own fruit salad for winter use? It is delicious. You dice up an equal quantity of peaches and pears. Cook in open kettle in a syrup the same as you would when canning any fruit. A few minutes before ready to come off stove, add 1 can pineapple tidbits or crushed pineapple. Seal while hot. When you open them in the winter you can add bananas, oranges and maraschino cherries if you wish.

OBITUARY

W. J. TREGUNNO
William John Tregunno, died
Monday morning at his residence, 9 Kenilworth Avenue South. He had been a resident of Bartonville for many years.

Mr. Tregunno was a life-long member of the Church of England and had served as warden of St.
Mary's Anglican Church for over 30 years. He was a member of Wentworth Lodge, A.F. and A.M.
Surviving are his widow, the former Mary Ann Parmenter; two sons, Lorne and John, of Hamilton;
three daughters, Mrs. Thomas Kent, of Burlington, Miss Mary, at home and Mrs. Ernest Rolph, of Hamilton; four brothers, Thomas and Philip, of Hamilton, David, of Ancaster and Alfred, of Halifax, N.S.; three sisters, Mrs. H. Bates, of Stoney Creek, Mrs. H. Doran, of Hamilton and Mrs. H. G. Brownlee, of Grimsby; and six grandchildren.

The funeral service was held in St. Mary's Anglican Church, Bartonville, on Tuesday. Interment was in Woodland Cemetery.

NEW ADDITION

February of this year, Jean Corcoran bought the Diner and in short order realized that her good food was drawing far more people than the place could handle, hence the addition.

Meanwhile Bent and Arzoff who continue to operate the Radial Service Station, also decided to do a bit of alteration and are at present covering their station with grooved vener, which will be painted in the colors of the oil company whose product they handle. This building is one of the radial cars that at one time swayed and swooped between Hamilton and Beamsville.

Jean Corcoran told us that with the addition she will probably handle full course meals, and fish and chips as well. The new dining room will be of stucco finish inside and out, and has been moulded neatly to fit with its now famous counterpart.

"Your slip is showing" is a remark around which many a joke has been woven but, when somebody's slip is showing, what do you do, tell her or not? That's one of the problems of politeness that bothers all of us at one time or another. If someone has a crumb of food on the face, or a girl has lipstick on the teeth, if a man has it smeared on his face!—should you tell them about it?
I think it is polite to point it out, because no one wants to go around looking like a fool. Of course, it must be done kindly, and not before others so that it holds the person up to ridicule. If you laugh at a person in this sort of predicament and say, without tact,
"Better wipe your face, you've got something on it," you are bound to leave the person more hurt than grateful. But, if you say quietly "I hope you don't mind if I mention this, but you have some egg on your chin and I thought you would like to know about it," he should indeed appreciate your well-meant remark.

This kindness should not be reserved for friends and acquaintances but extended to anyone who needs to be tipped-off about an embarrassing part of dress or appearance.

If the disarray is something that can be seen easily by the wearer,
it is wise to say nothing—maybe he likes it that way!

If you are the person who is told about this sort of thing, you, too, have your rules of etiquette to observe. Be grateful! You shouldn't be resentful and won't be, if you will remember how much effort it required from the other person to speak to you.

This is an example of how one shouldn't behave under these circumstances. The other day, a friend of mine saw a nicely dressed, elderly woman waiting for a street car and noticed that one stocking top had rolled down and was hanging around her ankle. She went up to the woman, said quietly and sympathetically "I hope you don't mind if I tell you this, but one of your stocking tops has apparently rolled down because it is showing below your skirt." The woman listened, glared, snapped "What if it is? It's none of your business," and turned her back! My friend who is too gracious and understanding to be disturbed by these things, walked on, musing on the strange ways of mankind, and womankind.

ARTIFICIAL FEEDING OF BABY

(By Dr. D. V. Currey, M.D.,
Director, St. Catharines-Lincoln
Health Unit)

With few exceptions every mother may, if she desires, nurse her baby in the natural way. No mother should discontinue breast-feeding unless advised to do so by her doctor. If for any reason the baby cannot get sufficient human milk to meet its growth needs, then a supplementary feeding may be necessary. Whenever a baby is put on artificial feeding, the attending physician will outline the formula to be used.

Cow's milk is easily procured,
and in this country is the most frequently used for the artificial feeding of infants. Cow's milk, unfortunately, has a different composition from human milk and because of this it must be diluted and some form of sugar added in order to try and make it as nearly as possible like breast milk.

All milk used for the artificial feeding of infants up to one year of age should be boiled for three minutes. This makes the curd more readily digestible and eliminates any danger of the milk being contaminated.

It is nearly always necessary to add some type of sugar to cow's milk when it is modified for the baby—corn syrup, cane sugar and dextrin-maltose are the sugars most commonly used. Cane sugar is the cheapest but again the choice of the sugar to be used should be left to the doctor.

Nowadays many babies are being raised on evaporated milk.
Evaporated milk is milk from which water only has been removed and a small amount of Vitamin 'D' added. It is important that mothers understand the difference between evaporated milk and condensed milk. Condensed milk is milk from which water has been removed and sugar added and is no longer used in the feeding of infants.

There is another type of evo-porated milk which is being used in increasing amounts. This one is called Farmer's Wife and differs from the ordinary evaporated milk
in that it is evaporated skimmed milk. In other words, it contains less of the cream than evaporated milk and is being used principally for babies which 'spit up' or regurgitate after being fed.

The prescribing of the formula is the responsibility of the attending physician. The technique of feeding must be carried out by the mother. A least five bottles must be used—these should be of such a shape that they can easily be kept clean, and the neck must be large enough so that the bottle brush may be used. The baby is held in the mother's arms in the same position as nursing from the breast and the title is supported by the mother.

There are many types of nipples
—the shape seems of little importance. Most physicians think it best to have the opening only large enough so that the milk will drop but not run from the bottle. The size of the opening in the nipple depends to a great extent upon the strength of the baby.

The c of the bottle and nipples is v important. The bottle should be rinsed in cold water immediately after use—washed in hot water, soap suds, then boiled and kept sterile until used. The nipple after being washed in cold water and boiled is kept in a dry sterile jar.

All babies, whether breast or bottle-fed require the addition of Vitamin 'D' to their diet. These substances are necessary for normal growth and development. They help in protecting babies against infections and are essential for the prevention of rickets and scurvy.
Vitamin 'D' which is found in cod liver oil and Vitamin 'C' which is found in orange juice and tomato juice may be commenced after the first month of life. Vitamin 'D' prevents rickets, Vitamin 'C' prevents scurvy.

Another essential in the diet of babies is pabulum or an alternate cereal such as pabina nutritum or one of the three cereals prepared by the Garber Company. These special cereals contain the nutritional substances which prevent anemia, and are usually started in the baby's diet at about three months of age.

Infant deaths can be kept to a minimum if proper, scientific care is used in feeding.

The Indians were the first to make use of maple sap to make maple sugar, thus founding a great Canadian industry.

Income tax revenue in 1943 from individuals in Canada was 481.1
million dollars; from corporations, 348 million. Budget estimates for 1950 are 891 million from individuals; 558 million from corporations.
In the same period revenue from succession duties increased from 13.3 million dollars to 26 million.

COMFORTING WORK

Fashionable New Yorkers in the 17th century felt obliged to maintain their prestige, when sick in bed, not only by calling a physician
but also by employing the services of two "comforters" whose incredible occupation was to comfort the patient throughout the long hours of the night. Dressed in black and having a funeral expression and way of speaking, these cheerful chaps sang mournful hymns, read sad parts of the Bible and discussed death and the hereafter. By dawn, the patient was usually hoping for the worst.

MORE MENNONITES LEAVE CANADA FOR PARAGUAY

En route to begin a new life in Paraguay are Peter A. Buhler, his wife and their 12 children and grandchildren. They are Mennonites from Carrot River, Sask., who are going 7,000 miles south "for religious and economic reasons." Many Mennonites who went to Paraguay from Canada last year died from disease. Others returned. But some remain in spite of hard living conditions.

FRUITLAND HOME OWNERS PLAN BIG CARNIVAL-BAZAAR

At a meeting held last week at Fruitland, the Saltfleet Home Owners' Association made final plans for the holding of a Carnival and Bazaar for Sept. 2nd and 3rd. A large turnout is hoped for with the proceeds to go to the building fund.

It was also announced that meetings will be held in the Auditorium of the new Mountain View School at Fruitland, with the first meeting to be held Sept. 5th. Everyone interested is issued a cordial invitation to attend, said the Secretary, W. B. Hogarth.

Two of the Association's original members resigned from the Executive. E. Krulicki as Treasurer, and W. Ball as Chairman of the Entertainment Committee. Replacing Mr. Krulicki, Mrs. N. Long was elected, and Mr. Hewitt replacing Mr. Ball. The roll of officers stands now with Mrs. J. Kinnear as President, S. Hewitt as Vice-President, Secretary, W. B. Hogarth. Stewards are W. Thompson, W. G. Giesse, and H. Clarke. Mrs. W. B. Hogarth is Chairman of the Membership Committee, and Auditors are S. Porthouse and C. Edwards.

The Association is an active one, and it may be of much interest to the public to learn something of the background and activities of an organization that is sure to gather strength in the future, and one that is bound to mean much to the township. One of their first objectives in the new year was to draw up an effective Constitution whereby we could govern the group to work-together harmoniously. The Association has been responsible for the improvement of poor conditions in various communities of the township, but as Secretary W. D. Hogarth stated, they were sorry to report that in some cases the very people who came to them with the complaint, failed to support them otherwise. Street signs have been erected, bus service improved, on both the King St. and No. 8 Highway, as well as the Queen Elizabeth Way. Complaints have been successfully handled from Orchard Beach, Cherry Beach, Tapscott and Millen's Road, to mention a few of the accomplishments.

From this it is evident that the organization is not a local community association, but is a non-political and non-sectarian organization that serves the needs of the whole of Saltfleet. The aim is not, as some people erroneously think, to get taxes lowered but to make a certainty the services that taxes pay for; to see that Township Council members do their job efficiently; to call to their attention any situation they carelessly or improve. This can be done only through the support of the individual citizen interested in the welfare of the township. A one member of the Township Council stated at a recent meeting: "an active organization like the Saltfleet Home-owners' Association is worth a thousand individuals."

Social activities will be planned for the coming year with several dances at the El Moro this past year having been held there, while not a noticeable success financially, proved to be enjoyable entertainment for all who attended.

Coast-to-coast radio programs are not "broadcast" the way most people imagine, in air from one city is "piped" by railway telegraph lines. Individual radio stations across the country and "aired" locally for each of them.

SOCIAL NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Hill, and daughter Nonah, of 393 Aberdeen Avenue, Hamilton, are spending a month in Winona.

Mrs. Roy Bailey and children have spent a week's vacation with Mr. and Mrs. Sydney A. Bailey at Niagara-on-the-Lake.

Mrs. Keith Millikin is out of the hospital, and is spending a week convalescing as a guest of Mrs. Andrew Fulton of Burlington, before returning home next week.

Best wishes to Miss Betty Jean Woodford of Fruitland, on her coming marriage to Mr. James Alfred Haigh of Hamilton. Miss Woodford will be married on September 10th, at St. Paul's Anglican church, Westdale.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hammill and their young son, Vernon, have just returned from a much enjoyed week's holiday at Pointe-aux-Baril, north of the Parry Sound region. Coming home, they motored through the Muskoka district, visiting at Lake of Bays, and Lake Boshking.

Due to a misunderstanding it was stated last week that Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Tenny had Mr. Tenny's father and mother visiting them from Fort Lauderdale, Florida. What should have been said was that Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Tenny are the guests of Mr. Tenny's father and mother on a trip to Fort Lauderdale, Florida.

STUDENT EXCHANGE FINDS SOLUTION TO LANGUAGE PROBLEMS

Miss Suzanne Oulet of Tourville, Quebec, is learning a lot about this part of the country during a three weeks stay with Miss Marie Wilson of Winona, after being hostess to Miss Wilson during her stay in Quebec. The girls were exchanged through the winning of Interprovincial French scholarships.

Miss Wilson returned very enthusiastic over her trip to Quebec, which undoubtedly did much to improve her fluency in the French language. During her first few days with the Oulet family, who spoke entirely in French, she found herself completely at sea, but by the end of her stay she not only understood what was being said with ease but even enjoyed playing monopoly in French. During her stay she visited Quebec City, Plains of Abraham, saw through the Chateau Frontenac—but enjoyed most of all her visit to St. Anne de Beaupre. At Saint Jean Port Joli she saw and learned folk dancing, which she said, is similar to our square dancing.

One of the thrills of Marie's trip was attending a wedding which was held at nine o'clock in the morning, and saw for the first time the strange custom of the fathers of the bride and groom being the only attendants of the couple. Miss Oulet explained this was a local custom.

The eighteen year old Suzanne Oulet, who is a grade thirteen student of Laval Normal School, would like very much to attend High School here. The Ontario curriculum with its varied social activities is a contrast to the stern discipline of French Canadian schooling. She stated that after arising at six a.m. studies commence at eight o'clock until eight-thirty p.m., all students being in bed by nine-thirty, Saturday inclusive.

pride of their first successful attempt at establishing a closer and friendlier relationship between the students of Ontario and Quebec through their inter-Provincial scholarships.

Extending the Frontiers of Canadian Farming

Twenty years ago, agricultural scientists looked askance on the idea of farming Canada's vast northland. The brief northern growing season was too short, they said. The number of horses a farmer would need to work his land, and get his crop sown in time to mature, would eat him out of house and barn. But then came power farming!

In the northern areas of the Prairie Provinces alone, five million extra acres have been brought under cultivation since 1936! Sown in wheat at present prices, this new acreage could yield in a single season a revenue of $180,000,000.

Generations ago, Massey - Harris served the early pioneers of Canada's West and North. Today, Massey-Harris is proud of its part in the continuing extension of Canada's farm frontiers—through the development of the indispensable power machinery that alone makes possible the opening up of vast new areas for settlement and prosperous development.

The home team was behind by two runs, and despite the five errors they had committed, their pitcher was holding his own and already had chalked up eleven strikeouts. He knew that his team had one more time at bat—and you never know, perhaps a last minute rally would pull the game out of the fire. This was not the first time this hurler had found himself backed up against the wall, and fought his way to a win for his team. Yet this was a little different, because this was his last game of softball. Yes, Johnny Belcot, the district's greatest softball pitcher, has decided to hang up his cap and spikes.

Smithville did not go on to rally in that ninth inning, they did use a pinch hitter and scraped one run across, but fell short and thus if this is to be Johnny Belcot's last game of organized softball he lost it by registering fourteen strikeouts, and giving up only two hits. Five errors by his mates accounted for the defeat.

Ball players and fans throughout this entire area will agree with us we know, when we state that there is no better sport in softball circles anywhere than this fellow John Belcot, who started his pitching career many years ago in St. Ann's, a protégé of Cecil Cocks. This was one instance where the pupil turned out to be more efficient than the teacher. Not that Cocks was not a great pitcher—but as an all round player Belcot was an example for the kids of Smithville, where he has been hurling for years, and his spirit and heady playing has won innumerable games for Smithville teams.

When next spring rolls around it will be strange if this lanky farm boy is not out there on the mound. He may decide he has had enough—but strange things happen to guys when the warm sun starts turning the grass green, and the guys around town start tossing the ball around.

Grimsby Peach Kings have so far shown enough stuff to get by the first round of the Intermediate "B" O.A.S.A. playdowns. Eliminating Niagara Food in two straight games was no mean feat, yet the Kings earned their victories, which were both very good games, and a fine source of entertainment to the fans. They had their Frank Merriwell endings, which of course, adds color to any sporting event, and fortunately the breaks came to

SMITHVILLE SMITTEN IN TWO STRAIGHT

Smithville dropped from sight in two straight games, as Waterdown and a pitcher by the name of Joe Davis spelled disaster to Fred Book and his Fruit Belt Champions. Dropping the first game in the Intermediate "C" grouping by a three to one count, Waterdown stepped into Smithville and took a four to two win, as five big Smithville errors assisted hurler Joe Davis' cause no end.

Hero of the piece, however, was Johnny Belcot, who hurled two hit ball and gathered in fourteen strikeouts, which bettered even Davis' eight whiffs. Actually two things beat Smithville. At bat they stood in awe of the great Davis, and in the field played as if they were newcomers to the game. Jolly Howe was not so jolly after he threw a couple of balls over the third baseman's head, and even Joe Belcot, rated one of the best infielders in the loop committed a couple of bobbles to further injure his brother's two hit effort.

Smithville picked up six hits, but were unable to put them together and consolidate the runs necessary to win the game, which they could have done if a horrible fourth inning could have been erased. It was in the fourth that Waterdown scored three runs off of one little single hit and four extremely costly errors.

TURNING THE PAGES OF "CANADA UNLIMITED"

From hilltop to hilltop, Canada's early Indians sent smoke signals... a warning that foes were on the way. The French settlers despatched their own messages—tales of victory or defeat, sickness or cheer—by runners, who sped along the trails from village to village. By 1700, riders delivered their messages on horseback.

With dramatic speed, man's words and thoughts began to race along the singing wires of the telegraph, which came to Canada in 1866. Thirty years later, Alexander Graham Bell invented the telephone... instant communication around the world was within reach.

Then in 1919 radio broadcasting made its entrance on the Canadian scene. Within a few years, conversations with ships at sea, with trains and even automobiles, were a reality.

Today, television is on our doorstep. Because our country is so vast, new means of communication is important—offering opportunities to every one of us. Yes, there's room to grow in Canada Unlimited.

Just how much room is told in "Canada Unlimited", a 144-page book published by the O'Keefe Foundation. You may obtain your copy by sending 25c in cash (no stamps or cheques, please) to "Canada Unlimited", Dept. N3-15, O'Keefe House, Toronto, Ontario. Please print your name and address clearly. All monies received will be donated to the Canadian Citizenship Council.*

Scientists bent on probing the deepest secrets of mother nature in record-breaking deep-sea dives off the southern California coast are pictured here. Top, Dr. Maurice Nellis hands motion picture camera into Dr. Otis Barton who is inside the massive-walled bathysphere, prior to dropping the diving ball into the depths. This test with automatic camera proved satisfactory, and Dr. Barton hopes to go down himself to take a look at the depths. Above, Barton peers over side of his diving barge as the bathysphere emerges from successful test dive. Dr. Maurice Nellis, signals at right. Elizabeth St. GrimsbyCHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY A COMMUNITY RESPONSIBILITY

This is one of a series of articles submitted by The Children's Aid Society of the City of St. Catharines and the County of Lincoln. Our purpose is to further community understanding and interest in all programs dedicated to raising the standards of child and family life in our midst.

How Would You Solve These Problems?

The following is but a sampling of the numerous and varied situations causing individual and family concern referred to the Children's Aid Society in recent weeks.

(1) Request from a nearby County Children's Aid Society for investigation of home where child placed with 17 year old mother and her husband. Child was a ward of the nearby County Children's Aid Society as unmarried mother could not maintain it. She later married and learned that she could have no more children, and child was placed with her by Children's Aid Society. Child accepted by husband of mother; however, he holds this against her as child was born out of wedlock. Child placed back with mother by Children's Aid Society on trial basis. Lincoln County requested to supervise placement.

(2) Twenty-one year old mother in office planning to separate from her husband after 4 years of marriage. Mother at twenty-one quite immature, and very much upset, feels she married too young, and is still infatuated with boy she knew prior to her "forced" marriage to her husband who is the father of their only child.

(3) Married woman separated from husband and expecting a child of which her husband is not the father. Desirous of help with plans for her confinement and also placement of the expected child for adoption.

(4) Man in office with 10 year old blonde haired, blue eyed girl. Stated that he and child's mother lived in common-law union, and she has since left him. He, in turn, has married an 18 year old girl and wishes to have the child legally adopted by himself and his young bride. Mother of the child is opposed to this, but refused to make a plan for the child herself.

(5) Man in office—French-Canadian, speaks very little English. His wife left him after heated argument, leaving him with five children, all under eight years of age. Father desirous of placing children in boarding homes—refused to ever live with his wife again.

(6) Elderly woman in office stating that her nephew and his wife have been living with her for the past year. They have never paid her any board for themselves, and expect her to look after their three children and feed and clothe them out of their family allowance. Husband and wife both irresponsible. The Aunt is kindly, big-hearted, and very much imposed upon.

(7) Young mother in office stating quite emphatically that she wished to place her year old child on adoption because she couldn't get along with her husband who was always criticizing her. Felt if she were free from responsibility of child she could leave her husband and seek employment. Became quite annoyed when we were refused to enter into adoption agreement with her on first interview. We suggested that she think things over a few days and then let us know how she felt. She came back a week later to say everything has been patched up between them.

(8) Husband and wife, as well as brother and sister-in-law, reported to be living in one small trailer with their 6 year old girl. Report from neighbours that they often went out at night on drinking parties and left the child locked in. Checked on complaint which was denied by parents. Brother and sister-in-law left day after Children's Aid Society visit—no further complaints to date about child being left alone.

(9) Communication from neighbouring Children's Aid Society to the effect that a mother of 4 children in dire financial straits to their county as her husband had left her and was living with another woman. The request was for an interview with the father of the children in the hope that he might co-operate by assisting his family at least financially.

(10) Request for Children's Aid Society interest in a young unmarried mother who gave birth to a baby boy a week ago and who was unable to make plans for it at the present time. The mother wishes to keep the child and has requested the Children's Aid Society to assist with some care for it for the present time.

(11) Telephone call from County Official stating that husband and wife and 3 children who had recently occupied a trailer were being evicted and the father was lacking employment.

(12) Girl now 15 years of age. Adopted at the age of 6 in England. Her adopted mother has since died and her father has shown very little interest in her to the point where she has run away from home several times.

The Agency in the community dedicated to the enrichment of both family and individual growth and maturity, "sees life as it is lived" with many of its complex problems. Difficulties of this kind if allowed to persist and to become enlarged like a malignant growth cannot but have a very detrimental effect on the parties concerned, not only as individuals, members of the family circle, but as citizens as a whole.

The Children's Aid Society through friendly counsel and guidance is striving at all times to assist families and individuals in need of someone whom they can turn to in times of crisis in their lives.

And so it is through co-operation with agencies similar to our own, churches, schools, service clubs, and all those who are interested in building a strong community that we endeavour to play our part.

On the night of June 12th, 1924, an express train of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul was nearing Rondout, Illinois, when a masked robber entered the engine cab and covered the fireman and engineer. Following instructions the engineer flashed his headlight three times and stopped at the next crossing.

Three, four confederates wearing gas masks threw gas bombs into the locked mail car, routed out and lined up its clerks and transferred its contents to their automobile. All five escaped. The 64 bags taken contained $2,000,000 in currency, jewelry and securities. Within a few hours, a great man hunt had been mapped out and started by Post Office Inspector William Fahy, one of the ablest detectives of the U.S. Post Office Department.

Several days later, an underworld source disclosed the hiding place of the loot and the name of the gang's leader, who was soon caught, convicted and given a long prison term. He was the detective William Fahy.

Following instructions the engineer flashed his headlight three times and stopped at the next crossing.

Three, four confederates wearing gas masks threw gas bombs into the locked mail car, routed out and lined up its clerks and transferred its contents to their automobile. All five escaped. The 64 bags taken contained $2,000,000 in currency, jewelry and securities. Within a few hours, a great man hunt had been mapped out and started by Post Office Inspector William Fahy, one of the ablest detectives of the U.S. Post Office Department.

Several days later, an underworld source disclosed the hiding place of the loot and the name of the gang's leader, who was soon caught, convicted and given a long prison term. He was the detective William Fahy.

sent some time ago arrived in excellent condition and shortly afterward a wire arrived asking for various types of produce in some quantity. The result is this shipment of grapes and peaches in commercial quantity.

Mr. Art Kimberly of the Beamsville organization reported to The Independent that the service would be continued all through the peach season.

Four cartons of peaches are to be sent in the near future to the British Isles and it is expected that one of these complimentary cartons will be sent the King. A service will be established in the future between here and the British Honduras, stated Mr. Kimberly.

AQUATIC CLUB REPORT SHOWS A VERY SUCCESSFUL SUMMER

The first season for the Grimsby and District Aquatic Club has been a successful one and it is hoped that it has laid the foundation for bigger and better activities in the future. Aquatic sports of all kinds are the backbone of summer recreation. Of necessity activities have been confined to swimming and diving, so far, but it is hoped, to be able to branch out in the future to other water sports.

In competitive swimming meets this year the swimmers are to be congratulated. They have won all three Niagara District meets competing against swimmers from Welland, Niagara Falls and St. Catharines. The competition in these meets was keen and in particular in the final meet held in Niagara Falls, for the District Championship, which was won by this club by a margin of 21 points.

The club is affiliated with the Canadian Amateur Swimming Association and the active members all hold amateur cards. These entitle them to enter any open meet in Canada and the United States. In order to gain experience twelve swimmers were entered in an open meet in the Dundas Pool and three swimmers in the Ontario Championship meet sponsored by the Fergus Aquatic Club. They did very well in their efforts, although beaten and finished better than expected against championship swimmers. It was good fun and good experience and as it develops the club is expected to stand out well in such competition.

In addition to speed swimming and diving, a small beginning was made this year in Synchronized Swimming. This is a sport with a future and it is hoped that more time will be put on it next season. The water front equipment was provided mostly by the Red Cross which has conducted a most successful season in swimming instruction and water safety. Thanks are expressed by the club for the use of this equipment and in particular to Mr. Graham who made all the cane floats almost single handed. It is hoped to obtain other much needed equipment as time goes on.

Champions have been selected in each age group, boys and girls, based on points given for the 1st, 2nd, and 3rd, in our own club meets and the meets held at Niagara Falls and Welland. These ten swimmers will be given cups donated by the Beach residents. The presentations will be made at the Community Hall in the Beach on Saturday, August 27, at 9:30 p.m. during the dance. It is hoped that a good turnout will be there to congratulate the winners.

The financial statement of the Club follows. With all the initial expense of formation the club is fortunate to come out in the black and would not have done so were it not for some generous contributions. The membership fees will have to remain at $1.00 ($3.00 per family) for next year, which will about cover operating expenses only. In order to get the needed water front equipment more contributions will be required. Anyone wishing to help the club financially can do so through Harold Overholt or Arch Stone. There are a few members who have not paid their dues and they are requested by officials of the club to do so soon.

EVENTS and TOPICS of the WEEK in TABLOID

School opens September 6th. School books starting to show in the stores.

Peach King "Duffy" got married last Saturday. If anyone of that club take the big step there soon won't be any single girls going to the games.

A big bowling tournament will be held in town on the 10th of September. George Warner and the boys will be out in force to protect the honour and glory of the Grimsby Lawn Bowling Club.

Bill "Insurance" Fisher goes to Buffalo now to buy his cigars. It seems they don't stock his brand down at Hand's Booth any more and those two-for-a-nickel stogies are hard to get nowadays.

Fire Department has had two calls recently to the Woolverton Mountain area. The first was on last Saturday night when they had a run to a grass fire which was started from a brush fire. The second was on Sunday night about 9:30 when there was a false alarm caused by the reflection from the fire at a weiner roast.

The Silver Mills Girls' Softball Team is going to be just about the best team in the league if they win the pennant this year. Stan Tragers, the rental owner of the Peach Dairy Bar tells us that he is going to treat the whole club to a chicken dinner if they come through with a championship. Not only that but an ice cream soda as well. Hand me that green and white sweater, maybe they could use a bat boy.

POLICE COMMITTEE

on the staff of the town force, or to procure a town cruiser, so that policing could be more efficiently carried out.

It was the general feeling of the meeting that the withdrawal of the Provincial Police from Grimsby will be missed by the entire community and the local town officers who have found in the Provincial officers stationed here a willingness to assist morally and physically when the occasion presented itself. Chief James has done much to gain the co-operation of the Provincial Police, and he personally went on record as stating that their leaving Grimsby would be a loss to all concerned.

Police Commissioner Scott emphasized the fact that the situation was merely under discussion at this meeting, and what action Council might take in the future would have to be thoroughly discussed at regular Council meetings. Undoubtedly the topic will head the agenda at the September meeting.

It was learned that Constable Davies is at present on sick leave, and Constable Rathbone, who has been on vacation, has returned to duty before enjoying the full vacation to which he is entitled.

If all the dividends paid by Canadian industry to persons with incomes of more than $5,000 a year were distributed equally among all Canadians it would amount to $5.00 per person.
